You will find yourself in a room surrounded by monsters whose only mission is to kill and destroy, you are the target. You have been armed with the skill to zap out blocks and build barricades to protect yourself against the relentless onslaught of the monsters. You are given 5 lives use them wisely. Each monster has it's own strengths and weakness learn them to use against them.

Hand control functions are:

- KNOB No function
- JOYSTICK Moves you in desired direction
- TRIGGER Zaps blocks into position based on the position of joystick

It will take some practice to learn to "ZAP" blocks in the position you wish to prevent the monster attack. Once you get the hang of it you can destroy them. If a monster hits your wall or crashes into a follow monster he is destroyed and you receive points. Beware, higher level monsters can destroy a block if they hit it. You cannot replace a block once it has been destroyed, nor can you "zap" a block on top of a monster. If a monster finds himself in a block which has been zapped on him he can turn it into a shield which he can pass through but you cannot. If it looks like all is lost you can pass through the escape door on the bottom if it is open.
